Premier Calinescu, Roumanian 'Strong Man', Assassinated

(By Associated Press)
BUCHAREST, Sept. 21.—Prime Minister Armand Calinescu was shot and killed today while driving in his automobile in one of Bucharest's principal streets.
The premier, known as the "Strong Man" of Roumania for his suppression of the pro-Nazi Iron Guard organization, was shot at 12:30 p. m. (6:30 a. m., EST) from another automobile which drove alongside his own.
(At this point, when The Associated Press correspondent apparently started to give further details of the assassination, the telephone connection between Bucharest and Copenhagen was broken.)

The Roumanian government radio announced the assassination.
(In Budapest the Roumanian legation reported that the Bucharest radio station shut down at 2:10 p. m., "after some minutes of wild, confused shouting" which could be heard over the microphone.)

The legation said in mid-afternoon it had been unable to reach the Bucharest foreign ministry by telephone up to that time.
Roumanian police on several other occasions had reported discovery of Iron Guard plots against the premier as well as against King Carol.

Succeeded Cristea
Calinescu became premier March 7, 1939, succeeding the late Dr. Miron Cristea, patriarch of the Roumanian church, who had created a national government.

On June 17 police announced that Iron Guards had planned to assassinate Calinescu as well as the king with hand grenades at a race track.

That plot was said to have been organized to avenge the death of Corneliu Zelea Codreanu, Iron Guard leader who was killed in a reported attempt to escape prison on Nov. 30.

King's Mainstay
A small man with a big black monocle over a slight left eye, Calinescu had been one of King Carol's mainstays in effecting governmental changes under which the king became a virtual dictator.
Calinescu was a conservative young for the premiership—46. He was educated in France.

He became minister of the interior under the anti-Semitic Octavian Goga Dec. 28, 1937, and kept the position under Cristea, later taking the additional post of war minister and vice-premier.
He lost the sight of one eye when he was 4 years old. A nurse mistook acid for eyewash.

POULTRY SHOW'S DATES ARE SET

Ohio-National Event Will Be Held Here Nov. 22 To 26

The Ohio-National Poultry show will be held in Salem Nov. 22 to 26. It was decided by poultrymen of the Columbiana-Mahoning county district at a meeting last night in the Memorial building.

Preliminary discussion of the event, which is to be an annual affair, was held a month ago.
The National Bantam show is to be held here this year in connection with the program.

The Arrow Feed Service building on S. Ellsworth, ave. will be headquarters for the poultry exhibit, while lectures by university specialists will be heard at the Memorial building.

Included in the display of chickens will be fancy birds, including bantams and pheasants, pigeons, utility, or production birds, dressed carcasses and a complete egg show.

Birds already have been entered from St. Louis, Indianapolis, Detroit and Cincinnati.

East Rough of East Liverpool, general chairman, has called a meeting at the Memorial building Oct. 5 of all members of the recent World's Poultry Congress committees from Columbiana and Mahoning counties.

Plans also were discussed last night for staging a gala egg festival, with the crowning of an egg queen, when the 1940 poultry show is held here.

Guilford Juvenile Roster Increased

Mary Sanor and Marion Marshall were received as new members at a meeting of Guilford juvenile grange Saturday evening in the hall. Twenty-seven members attended.

An application for membership was received from Velous Loudon. The roll call was, "The Most Interesting Thing I Saw at the Fair."

A "True or False" quiz was conducted by the lecturer, Louise Hanna, and a ring throwing contest was enjoyed. The birthday of Richard Baughman was observed. The juvenile grange received first prize for its exhibit at the county fair last week.

A special meeting was called for Sept. 22, to rehearse for the annual inspection, which will be conducted Sept. 30 by Mrs. Maynard Fallow, county deputy matron.

After the meeting some of the juveniles participated in the program held in honor of the past masters of the subordinate grange.

Struthers Youth Dies In Accident

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 21.—Harry Simcox, 19, of Struthers, was killed and two persons were hurt today when Simcox' car and a milk truck were demolished at a B. & O. grade crossing at Struthers.

Simcox' machine was struck by two locomotives, running light. As the locomotives hit the automobile, it caught a milk truck in which Joe Raynor, 27, and Fred Marrie, 15, of Poland, were riding.

After the train picked up Simcox' car, the car sideswiped the rear of the milk truck, hurling it about 50 feet.
Raynor and Marrie are in "fair" condition at Youngstown hospital.

Mine Sealing Will Resume, According To Health Leader

COLUMBUS, Sept. 21.—Dr. R. H. Markwith, state director of health, announced today that Ohio's three-year-old mine sealing program would be resumed with headquarters at Zanesville as soon as a project director could be selected.

He said work for 350 men would be available immediately, with an eventual staff of 600. The program is to be financed with $128,000 in state and U. S. public health service funds, with labor provided by the WPA.

The Zanesville office, including a completely equipped field laboratory, is to be manned by a staff of nine.

Initial steps on the new sealing program, designed to curb pollution of streams by preventing natural formation of sulfuric acid in coal mine shafts, are to be taken in Belmont, Perry, Muskingum and Tuscarawas counties, with subsequent operations in Jefferson, Stark, Columbiana and Harrison counties, the director said.

New Anti-Aircraft Guns Prepared To Guard U. S. Cities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—About 300 new mobile anti-aircraft guns for which congress provided $23,685,000 are ready to safeguard American cities and vital military posts.

A year after work was started, officials said today that nearly all the rapid-fire three-inch weapons had been tested, put in service or added to army reserves.

This report was made shortly after Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York told the national mayors conference here that measures were being formulated to protect open cities against possible "surprise attacks."

Reinforcements of fixed fortifications around New York, San Francisco and other coastal cities is going forward steadily in accord with a $65,000,000 sea coast defense program which congress adopted in 1936.

JURY PROBING MURDER CHARGE

Summon Thirty-four Witnesses In Hatchet Slaying Case

LISBON, Sept. 21.—An investigation into the hatchet slaying of Andrej Drotleff, by an upstairs bedrooom of a house in Salem the night of July 22, was started today by the grand jury.

Thirty-four witnesses were called as the jury probed the first-degree murder charge on which George Ludwig of Salem is held in connection with Drotleff's death.

Ludwig, a roomer in the Drotleff home had been drinking with Drotleff earlier that evening, it is alleged by authorities.

Ludwig, who denies all knowledge of the crime, and pleaded not guilty when arraigned, claims he left Drotleff early the night of July 22 and did not return home until early Monday morning when he found the body.

The examination of witnesses in this case is expected to require the greater part of two days.

Winning Marksmen To Receive Awards

Prizes will be awarded winners in novice events of the Salem Gun club's "Hunter's Special" trap and skeet shoots at the Salem Country club ranges Sunday afternoon.

The novice events are designed for shooters who do most of their firing in the field and have had little or no experience on trap and skeet ranges.

George Baillie, secretary of the Salem Gun club, has planned the Sunday shooting program to give hunters a chance to get in some practice before the opening of hunting season.

Skilled shooters, not permitted to compete in the novice events, will shoot for a diamond pin, emblematic of the Columbiana county trapshooting championship.

According to Miss Wilson, its membership is pledged to a single purpose, the promotion of human welfare through the development of hospital service.

LONDON CLAIMS, BERLIN DENIES, CZECH REVOLTS

Uprisings In Bohemia and Moravia Reported In Britain

"NONSENSE" SAYS NAZI SPOKESMAN

England Hears Movement Goes On In Spite of Opposition

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 21.—British government allegations of a "serious" revolt in Bohemia and Moravia—parts of Czechoslovakia which Germany absorbed—were cited today as backing British hopes of enlisting Germany's anti-Nazis in the fight against Adolf Hitler.

(In Berlin, the British reports of an organized revolt were described as "nonsense" by a spokesman for Baron Konstantin von Neurath, reich's protector for Bohemia and Moravia. He invited correspondents to visit Prague and see for themselves.)

Move Continuing
A ministry of information communiqué said Britain had received authoritative information that a revolutionary movement had started last Sunday in Bohemia and Moravia and was continuing despite "ruthless" repressive measures.

"That this is not just a flash in the pan," the ministry said, "is shown by the unanimity of purpose, the tenacity and the discipline of the participants."

Eduard Benes, former president of the Czechoslovak republic, told Prime Minister Chamberlain only two days after Britain's declaration of war.

"We Czechoslovak citizens consider ourselves as being also at war with Germany's military forces."

"Casualties Numerous"
The information ministry, describing the uprising, said that "firearms were used on both sides and casualties are said to have been considerable."

On Sept. 19, the communiqué went on, Slovak garrisons at several places revolted and "about 15,000 troops have been disarmed."

Arrests throughout the protectorate, the statement said, "ran into thousands, those executed into hundreds."

In the course of the revolt, which began with labor disturbances in Prague, the information ministry said "bridges on important railways and roads were damaged, fire stations put out of action, rolling stock and material damaged, workshops of important factories bombed and machinery destroyed."

Nine Vessels Sail After Strike Ends

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Nine vessels held in the port of New York by a seamen's strike for war-risk bonuses and insurance were free to sail today as a result of an agreement for settlement of the dispute.

The United States Lines, the American Export Lines, the American Scantic Line and Lykes Brothers, whose ships had been tied up, agreed to the plan of settlement, Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime union (CIO) announced.

Under the plan, approved by union members at a mass meeting last night, seamen on ships entering European and Mediterranean ports would receive a 25 per cent wage increase, transportation back to the United States in case their ships were lost, wages in the event of internment in a foreign port, loss of personal effects guaranteed up to $150, and assurance that charges would be withdrawn against seamen on trial for alleged failure to obey orders to sail.

The United States maritime commission announced in Washington yesterday that personnel on vessels it owns and operates through managing agents in the north Atlantic would receive an emergency increase of 25 per cent in their base pay.

Superintendent At Hospital Meeting

Miss Esther Wilson, superintendent of Salem City hospital, left last night for Toronto, Canada, to attend the American Hospital association's 41st annual convention Sept. 25 to 29.

According to Miss Wilson, its membership is pledged to a single purpose, the promotion of human welfare through the development of hospital service.

Reassures Nation Of Belief America Can Stay Neutral

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—President Roosevelt asked congress today for repeal of the arms embargo provisions of the neutrality law because they are "most vitally dangerous to American neutrality, American security and American peace."

In a message delivered in person to an extraordinary session of the legislators, the chief executive said he could offer no hope that "the shadow over the world might swiftly pass."

Standing on the rostrum of a crowded house chamber, Mr. Roosevelt told senators and representatives he had assembled them to amend legislation which in his best judgment "so alters the historic foreign policy of the United States that it impairs the peaceful relations of the United States with foreign nations."

REPUBLICANS NAME LEADERS

Group Outlines Plans For Fall Campaign In City

Salem Republicans reorganized for the fall campaign and re-elected Atty Charles McCorkhill as president at a well-attended meeting Wednesday night in the Memorial building.

Other officers elected include: First vice president, James Armstrong; second vice-president, R. L. Hutchison; secretary, Atty Henry Reese; treasurer, George F. Koonz.

Various committees also were named to aid in the campaign. Plans are being considered for bringing a speaker of national prominence to the city just prior to the Nov. 7 election.

Candidates were present at last night's meeting and spoke briefly.

FILES ANSWER IN RICH DISPUTE

Secretary of State Points to Decision of County Board of Elections

George Bricker has received a letter from Secretary of State Earl Griffith in reply to his protest to Griffith over the Columbiana board of elections' approval and acceptance of the name of William G. Rich, Jr., as a Perry township candidate for justice of the peace.

Bricker contends that Rich has moved from the city and by reason of his alleged non-residence is not a qualified candidate.

The board of elections explained previously, however, that the facts received, Rich's absence from the city is only temporary and he intends to return to the city. Under state laws, Rich could remain away from the city for a period not to exceed three years and still be a qualified candidate.

Griffith, in his letter, said that "if the election board has found from all the facts that he (Rich) was only temporarily absent from the city and expects to return, they would have no alternative other than to place the name on the ballot."

Unless further information can be produced which would induce the board to reopen the matter, Griffith said he was of the opinion that a protest filed with the board of elections against placing the name on the ballot would be the correct procedure.

Sportsmen To Free Raccoons In County

LISBON, Sept. 21.—The Columbiana County Fish and Game association has purchased 25 raccoons which are being released in various wooded sections of the county prior to the opening of hunting season.

Open season on raccoons is from Nov. 15 to Jan. 15 with a bag limit of two per day.

Thirteen of the animals were secured from the Stallsmith Raccoon Farms at Berlin, Center, and 12 were gotten from Victor Mills of Sallineville. Twelve of the coons have already been released by pairs in Hanover, Madison, Middleton, Wayne, St. Clair and Center townships, with the other 13 yet to be liberated.

Need Road Funds

LISBON, Sept. 21.—Unity township trustees today asked the court for permission to transfer $3,500 from the general fund to the road fund, which is exhausted.

Gets Coal Contract

SEERING, Sept. 21.—Willard McElowney, one of six bidders has been awarded the contract to supply coal to the Smith township schools during the present term.

The "crux" of the issue, he said, was repeal of the embargo, which forbids shipments of munitions to combatant nations, and a "return to the international law."

The President took occasion, too, to renew his plea for non-partisanship during the present international crisis and to reassure the nation of his belief that America could keep from being embroiled in Europe's conflict.

All Want Peace
"Let no man or group in any walk of life," the President said, "assume exclusive protectorate over the future well-being of America—because I conceive that regardless of party or section the mantle of peace and of patriotism is wide enough to cover us all."

"Let no group assume the exclusive label of the peace 'bloc.' We all belong to it."

Mr. Roosevelt added that "in my candid judgment" the United States would "succeed in these efforts" to keep out of war.

When asked if the embargo is scrapped, the President said there were other phases of policy "re-enforcing American safety" that should be considered.

Lists Various Phases
Restricting American merchant vessels, so far as possible, from entering dangerous zones. Preventing American citizens from traveling on belligerent vessels.

Requiring foreign buyers to take transfer of title in this country to commodities bought by belligerents. (Cash-and-carry).

Preventing extension of war credits to belligerents.

Two other objectives, the chief executive said, have been attained amply under existing law. These are the regulation of collections of funds in this country for belligerents and the maintenance of a license system covering foreign trade in arms, ammunition and implements of war.

Choice of Methods
The President left to congress, however, a choice of methods by which these "safeguards" should be set up—so long as the method chosen will meet the needs of new and changing day to day situations and dangers.

"To those who say that this program would involve a step toward war on our part," the chief executive asserted, "I reply that it offers far greater safeguards than we now possess or have ever possessed to protect American lives and property from danger."

"It is a positive program for giving safety. This means less likelihood of incidents and controversies which tend to draw us into conflict, as they did in the last World war."

"There lies the road to peace."

After relating steps already taken to strengthen the nation's defenses, Mr. Roosevelt said he saw no need for additional legislation nor for further executive action under his proclamation of a limited state of national emergency.

Sought Peace
Mr. Roosevelt said the executive branch of the government had done its utmost, within a traditional policy of non-involvement, "to aid in averting the present appalling war."

"Having thus striven and failed," he said, "this government must turn to ARMS, Page 6"

Urges Acceptance Of Hitler Limits

ROME, Sept. 21.—Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo D'Italia today urged Adolf Hitler's adversaries to accept what it called his offer of a limit on Germany's expansion and end the European war.

Many observers believed Il Duce himself had written the two-column article giving this advice.

If the fight continued, Il Popolo warned, other statesmen might find themselves refugees of war, such as Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, Premier Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, Premier Juan Negrin of Republican Spain and Foreign Minister Jozef Beck of Poland.

GREAT MEN ARE KIND

An incident which befell a little Canton girl, now grown up and married, illustrates the qualities which made Charles M. Schwab a great man.

Motoring in Pennsylvania with her uncle and aunt, something went wrong with the car directly in front of Mr. Schwab's beautiful Loretto estate and it crashed. Mr. Schwab, walking in his front yard, saw the accident and ran to the scene. He called a gardener and the two of them lifted the occupants from the car and carried them into the mansion.

The two older persons were cut and bruised and were put to bed and doctors were called. The little girl was unhurt but frightened and after the others were cared for, Mr. Schwab devoted himself exclusively to her welfare.

He became her personal guide on a tour of the estate. At luncheon he was entertaining two of the country's most distinguished musicians but he insisted that the little girl be his guest and she dined that day in Mr. Schwab's magnificent dining room with her host so gracious that she forgot to be awed by the presence of such distinguished people. By evening her uncle and aunt were able to resume their trip and they left after Mr. Schwab had given them a cordial invitation to return and call on him again.

It was this human touch that made him a truly great man. In winning fabulous wealth and power he never forgot the days when he was a common laborer in the steel mills nor the people who were his friends in those early days of a great career.

LET'S YOU AND HIM FIGHT

For a people who will have no immediate part in hostilities Americans have been free in borrowing a popular line from the famous Mr. Wimpy in telling England, "Let's you and him fight!"

They waxed loudly indignant when England did not fight Hitler over Czechoslovakia. Then played the role of coatholders and eggheads on when Poland was invaded. Now that collapse of Poland under combined German and Russian pressure makes it probable that Germany will suggest a peace on the victor's terms, many are shouting for England and France to keep on slugging.

Maybe the peace of the world and the fate of democracy demands that the warfare must be carried on until the spirit of aggression is broken and nations can again live in reasonable peace and security, but since England and France are doing the fighting, it seems that they are the ones to decide whether, when and how the battle shall be fought.

We haven't much business coaching the belligerents unless we are willing to step in and trade punches ourselves and a recent nationwide survey shows that only 23 per cent of the people participating believe that we should do any fighting ourselves. From the noise they make it sounds like a lot more than that proportion are standing back on temporarily safe sidelines and yelling for the belligerents to keep hitting.

THE MASK IS DROPPED

The mask of hypocrisy which covered both Communist and Nazism has been stripped off by the accord between Berlin and Moscow and it is revealed that the two ideologies, theoretically as far apart as the poles, are really parallel in their aims.

Fascism came into being as a defense against Communism. Radicalism was rising in Europe and self-anointed leaders pulled themselves to power by standing as the wall against this wave of red power.

Communism believes that the people are the state, fascism that the state is the people and developments have shown with increasing clarity that there is not one whit of difference between the two theories of government. Each builds into a personal autocracy and in Russia and Germany Stalin and Hitler have become both the state and the people. The world now knows that Fascism is not a defense against Communism and that Communism is not the enemy of Nazism but that both are enemies of democracy, caring nothing for the ideology of government but intent only on grabbing more power for themselves.

Until one starts to grab at the expense of the other, free people of the earth must face the fact that they are menaced by two powerful theories of aggression and aggrandizement which have mapped their courses by the same chart.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Writer

Allies and Germans are all set for action on the western front—so well set, in fact, that either would be courting disaster by employing undue haste in initiating a major offensive.

Hence the comparative inactivity so far.

There's no call for rush at this juncture. The crushing of Poland removes the necessity of an immediate allied attack to relieve pressure on the Poles. The Nazis still haven't broken away from Hitler's policy of not fighting the allies unless forced, on the grounds that Germany has no quarrel with France and England.

Curiously enough, despite the fact that the sprig of peace-on-my-terms olive which Hitler held out from Danzig was tossed back at him by the allies, Berlin still persists with peace propaganda. Yesterday there was another striking gesture of friendship towards France in a military funeral to French Lieut. Louis Deschanel who was killed in action. And the Berlin Allgemeine Zeitung said:

"Germany has reached her war objective. The west does not interest us. Of course, should someone attack us there we would defend ourselves as effectively as possible."

"Why must this war go on?" cried the Boersen Zeitung.

Evidently German hope of peace on their own terms isn't entirely dead. But the moment it becomes certain that the war must continue—look out for fireworks.

Once the gloves are off it will be a nasty war. The horrors of modern air raids—the world's awful nightmare—are in the offing.

British Premier Chamberlain nailed the imperial standard to the mast yesterday when he laid down England's war aims before his house of commons. He reiterated the determination to pay the allied debt of honor to Poland, but the thing cut a log deeper than that.

"Our general purpose in this struggle is well known," he said. "It is to redeem Europe from the perpetual and recurring fear of German aggression and enable the peoples of Europe to preserve their independence and their liberties."

That's plain language and it covers more ground than a man would want to plow in a day. But it is a long way from telling the entire story.

It becomes increasingly clear that the British empire has been put on the spot.

Not only is Britain Herr Hitler's chief target, but it is being potted at by other countries as well. France, of course, is sharing England's trials, but the prize scalp sought is John Bull's. The boys have ganged on him.

The main engagement is to determine whether Hitler shall continue to extend his influence until Nazi Germany is the dominant power, or whether England shall retain the politico-economic superiority which has given that nation, among other things, the title of "Policeman of Europe."

The Nazi Communist cloudburst has driven all the smaller nations of eastern Europe and the Balkans scurrying to cover. They are afraid of Germany, or of Russia, or of both. England's efforts to put her finger on her small friends is like trying to catch a flea.

In the far east, where England has been a power for long generations, Japan is driving hard to oust the British from their position of vast influence in China. Britain's war commitments in Europe are helping Nippon.

In short, the whole British empire is on the firing line.

Progress Made In Blood
Disease In Recent Years

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

In a report on Medical Progress in the New England Journal of Medicine, Professor Dameshek, of Boston's Tufts Medical School, picks the following as the most important advances in diseases of the blood:

(1) Examination of the bone marrow. The blood is very much easier to study than most other organs, because all you have to do is to make a pin prick in the end of the finger or the lobe of the ear, draw a drop of blood out on the slide, stain it and look at it under a microscope. That is what diagnosticians have been doing for 40 or 50 years. And they have learned a lot.

But the circulating blood, which is what you study that way, is conditioned by the bone marrow, because it is the bone marrow that the circulating blood cells originate. A few years ago a method was devised by which some bone marrow can be obtained for microscopical study. The bone selected is the breast bone. A small cut is made in the skin and a special needle goes through the bone plate and whips out a piece of marrow for inspection. The operation does not hurt any more or as much as the drilling of a tooth and is perfectly harmless. It has become firmly established as a method of studying blood diseases. A much more exact idea of what is going on can be gained from these marrow punctures—whether the blood is regenerating or degenerating and which cells are involved. So if your doctor proposes to suck some of your sernal marrow out, don't object. It is all in the interests of science.

(2) The number of different forms of chronic anemia described since the revival in interest in treating anemia, following the discovery of the beneficial effect of liver extract in pernicious anemia.

More important of the new forms is chronic anemia, due to the state of chronic iron deficiency.

Iron is needed in definite quantity in the diet to stimulate the bone marrow in the production of healthy blood cells. If iron is deficient, the product is inferior. The red blood cells are smaller than normal, and do not contain the proper amount of oxygen-carrying hemoglobin, with flattened fingers, nails, graying hair, wrinkled facial skin and sores at the corners of the mouth.

Usually in Women
The condition appears most usually in women, and in women of the lower income groups. The diet of this group tends to be deficient in iron, and repeated pregnancies further deplete the body iron, leading to the condition of chronic anemia.

A definite practical warning concerns women of the higher income groups who manage to get themselves in this condition by going on freak diets. The last victim of this kind I saw had fervently embraced the separate carbohydrate and protein nonsense, and thought she felt fine and was in good health until it was found that her blood cells contained about half the iron she needed.

The only treatment is to increase the iron in the diet, by the direct use of iron in the form of medicine, if necessary.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
B. M.: "What is your opinion in connection with radium to shrink an enlarged thymus gland?"

Answer: I have never heard of radium being used for this purpose. Under x-ray the thymus disappears but I doubt if radium rays would penetrate that far.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th St., New York City. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL
BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 46 years. They give happy relief and will help 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

History has been women leaders of men troops—Deborah of Biblical times, Joan d'Arc Congress pensioned Deborah Gannett of Massachusetts for military service in the American Revolution, and a Miss Hodgers of Illinois as a soldier in the Civil War.

The World war saw women commanding women troops—Maria Leontiova Botchkarova, leader of Russia's "Battalion of Death," and Frau Heimberg of Germany's "Battalion of Death."

In the recent Spanish war Dolores Ibarri, "La Pasionaria," exhorted women in the Loyalist cause to fight side by side with the men as their right. Present day stories tell of Chinese women in army uniforms. Pictures from Palestine show Jewish women on guard duty, rifle in hand.

What Is Next For Women As New Conflict Breaks?

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO — How is war—this war in Europe and Asia today—changing the lives of women?

The World war revolutionized their lives.

Women in western Europe and America bobbed their hair, powdered their noses and invaded industry—and stayed there after the armistice. Women in Turkey put aside their veils. More women in China walked on unbound feet.

Picks and Shovels Now?
Is progress, which handed women college degrees, the ballot and pay envelopes, now handing her a pick to dig a trench, a shovel to clear away bomb debris—even a rifle?

News stories tell of women fighting in Warsaw. Pictures show Polish women in uniforms—belled jacket, helmet and trousers—organized for duty behind the lines. Pictures show girls in slacks, women in "just any old thing" digging trenches.

Nurses uniforms are a familiar sight again in belligerent countries—and only 85 years ago during the Crimean war Florence Nightingale organized the first women's war nursing corps. Thus did women invade the masculine occupation of war.

The World war accepted women nurses as a matter of course—and added women ambulance drivers, dispatch riders, canteen workers. The labor of women in munition factories released men for the front. Now the English auxiliary territorial service is being put into new snappy uniforms.

The "Wrens," England's women's royal naval service of the World war, again are recruiting for non-combatant duties at naval posts. Women, including Screen Actress Glen Alyn, are volunteering for ambulance drivers. Women are volunteer auxiliary pilots. Women are harvesting crops in Germany.

Blood for Storage
Since the World war science has discovered how to store human blood for blood transfusion. In Paris women go to St. Antoine's hospital to volunteer blood for storage.

History has been women leaders of men troops—Deborah of Biblical times, Joan d'Arc Congress pensioned Deborah Gannett of Massachusetts for military service in the American Revolution, and a Miss Hodgers of Illinois as a soldier in the Civil War.

The World war saw women commanding women troops—Maria Leontiova Botchkarova, leader of Russia's "Battalion of Death," and Frau Heimberg of Germany's "Battalion of Death."

In the recent Spanish war Dolores Ibarri, "La Pasionaria," exhorted women in the Loyalist cause to fight side by side with the men as their right. Present day stories tell of Chinese women in army uniforms. Pictures from Palestine show Jewish women on guard duty, rifle in hand.

lose no time or effort to keep the nation from being drawn into the war."

Here is predicted success "in these efforts."

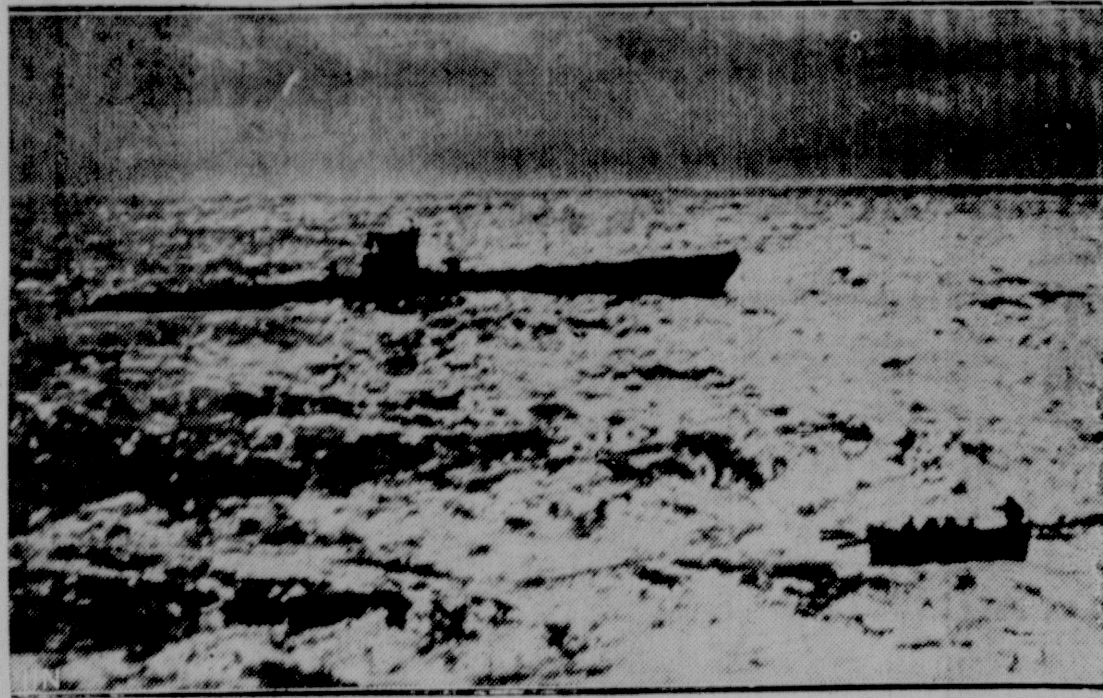

Mr. Roosevelt said the disaster abroad was not of American making, but that "we find ourselves affected to the core, our currents of commerce are changing, our minds are filled with new problems, our position in world affairs has already been altered."

A moment later he asserted: "Fate seems now to compel us to assume the task of helping to maintain in the western world a citadel wherein that civilization may be kept alive. The peace, the integrity and the safety of the Americas—these must be kept firm and serene."

Thus the President, for some of his audience, gave reassurances that the United States would stand firmly behind the Monroe doctrine. His message also gave his backing to the neutrality proposals transmitted to congress at its last session by Secretary Hull.

U-Boat Stops And Searches American Steamer

This dramatic photograph taken by Mort Shepard, Jr., of Bethel, Conn., shows a lifeboat of the American freighter Wascosta taking German submarine officers from their submarine to the Wascosta where the Germans conducted a search and then permitted to continue on her way when satisfied she was an American ship. The Wascosta was stopped by the submarine 38 miles off the Irish coast by firing a shot across her bow, after she ignored the U-boat's signals. The photograph was taken from the American freighter, first to be stopped since the war began.

Sebring May Make Trouble For Quakers In Grid Opener

Trojans Point For Game With Salem Eleven

Quakers Can Expect Air Attack In Opening Game Friday

Don't for a minute get the impression that Salem High school's Quakers are in for an easy time in their opening game of the 1939 football season against Sebring's Trojans at Reilly stadium tomorrow night.

Maybe the Quakers did spank the Trojans, 39 to 0, last year, but remember 1937! That was the year an underdog Sebring eleven, battling every inch of the way, threw a mighty big scare into the Salem ranks. The Quakers won, 14 to 0, but only after an unexpectedly stiff battle.

The Trojans annually point for the Salem game, considering it the most important one on their schedule, and like nothing better than upsetting the Quakers' applecart.

Have Good Chance

Believing their team has a good chance against the Quakers this year, an exceptionally large following of Sebring fans will accompany the Trojans here. The snappy Sebring band, which numbers among its drills one in which the musicians carry flashlights and present illuminated letters, will also appear at the stadium.

Trouble via the airlines can be expected by the Quakers since Coach Clinton Heacock has been wrestling passing in Trojan practices this week.

Heacock was mildly disappointed in the Trojan performance in playing Newton Falls to a scoreless tie in their opening game last Saturday. He has been attempting to develop an aerial attack and improve the defense to strengthen the team for the Salem game.

Reserve Strength Good

The Sebring coach, however, was pleased with the reserve strength shown by his team in its opener.

The Sebring team is built around five lettermen—Richard Myers, Wes Pollock, Joe Kirksey, Carl Hilary and Bill Campbell. All except Pollock were regulars last year. Myers is the center, Pollock a tackle, Kirksey an end, Hilary a guard and Campbell a halfback.

Campbell is the spark plug of the backfield and shares most of the ball-carrying duties with Pollock. Wilbur Hennon, a graduate of the reserve ranks, who does the punting.

In addition to Hennon, other newcomers to the Trojans' first string lineup are John Lang, end; Chester Bert, tackle; John Fahner, guard; John Stanford, quarterback; and Jim Dennis, halfback. Myers at center, Hilary and Fahner at guards, Pollock and Bert at tackles and Lang and Kirksey at ends, the line averages about 165 pounds in weight.

Replacements

Among the first line replacements are John Reynolds, 167-pound tackle; Gene Haberland, quarterback; Richard Alles, end; Robert Klass and Backs Bill Whitaker, Baumgartner, guard; and Ned Newton, center, and guard.

Although heavier than usual, the Sebring line will be outweighed by the Quakers' forward wall, which averages 170 pounds.

The Quakers are slated to wind up pre-season practice for the opener with a light workout under the new floodlights at Reilly stadium tonight. Game equipment will be issued for the practice.

Faculty Manager

Faculty Manager Frederick E. Cope announced today the turf on the stadium field is in better condition this year than it ever has been.

Starting time for the opening game will be 7:45, Cope said.

Officials will be Ray Reasebeck of Salem, referee; W. Bruce Hamm of Struthers, umpire, and George Porter of Lisbon, head linesman. George Gibson of Salem will serve as one of the two timekeepers.

MOUNT SMOOTHS NEW OFFENSIVE

Purple To Offer Streamlined Attack Against Albion

Mount Union College today polished up a streamlined offense for its Friday night opener at Albion against Albion (Mich.) College.

Coach Harry Geltz indicated that Johnny Cabas, triple-threat quarterback, would do most of the passing.

At New Concord, Coach Stu Holcomb plans to start several sophomores in Friday night's game with Otterbein.

Norman Hoelzer of Sandusky, senior halfback at Dayton, will be out the rest of the season because of high blood pressure, Coach Harry Baujan said.

Wooster coaches are trying to develop a punter to replace the graduated Dave Henderson. Jan Jennings of Bay Village and Harry Ditch of Rittman are leading candidates. The play of George Joseph, Tiffin end, and Bob Black, Norwalk back, has stood out in drills.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—The Messrs. Conn, Comisky et al can step right up and start forming a line to the left....As Max Schmeling once said, "He is no more the same Joe Louis"...Only this time it's so....The Brown Bomber stuff is out....Louis is on the skids. Personally, I won't be surprised if Tony Galento will kill him in Chicago next June....All you can say for Pastor is that he is a good, game country fighter....He's not, championship calibre and never will be....Louis had four male-to-order chances to polish Pastor off right quick last night, but couldn't follow through....The only reason Pastor lasted 11 rounds is that, as Herr Schmeling said: "He is no more the same Joe Louis."

World's Series Tip

The Yankee-owned Kansas City Blues won the American Association pennant, finishing 25 games out in front of the Cincinnati-owned Indianapolis Indians....then, in the play-offs, the Indians knocked the Blues off four games out of five....There'll be no red ink splattered around the National Professional Football league this year. The magazines have an unwritten agreement that if any club fails to make the grade the others will kick in with enough sugar so they'll all show a profit....Bob Pastor was the first college man ever to fight for a heavyweight title.

Scoop parade

Texas A. and M. coaches have been told they're out unless they win the Southwest conference championship this year....In the event they go, Maj. Bob Neyland of Tennessee will name the new head coach....You can have three guesses as to who will be....Detroit will lose 40 ball players when Judge Landis gets around to announcing his findings in that farm club probe. A couple of clubs in the Texas league may be clipped for that many more....The judge means business in this thing and he is only waiting for the end of the major league season to go to work....Unconfirmed: Thirty freshmen at a well-known southern football school are making as high as $400 this season, plus room and board.

GOPHERS ARE NO LONGER GOLDEN

Eight Members Of Last Year's Minnesota Team Missing

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—The tornadic winds of the Minnesota farm yard wreckage has a sympathizer in Coach Bernie Bierman at Minnesota.

Bierman likewise doesn't know just where to begin in trying to fit pieces back together. The debris perplexing him comprises the ruins of those Golden Gopher dream teams that won four Big Ten titles and three mythical national championships in the last seven years.

The blow that smashed the 1938 outfit obliterated eight of the 11 starting parts of the titular machine. That leaves three surviving pieces for the flimsy 1939 foundation.

Naturally, Coach Bierman's disposition fits perfectly into the sad, sombre picture. He professed to be grieved in the years when championship teams were in the making. But nobody shared his sorrow.

Look To Future

You get the very definite impression around the campus that the thing to do is to forget 1939 ambitions and look to the future, because there is some promising young material. So the best guess seems to be to concede at least two defeats to a field of opponents comprising the class of the Big Ten, namely Northwestern, Ohio State, Michigan, Purdue and Wisconsin. Then there are powerful Nebraska and Iowa and the opener with Arizona.

The team's scoring punch will depend greatly on Van Every's passing, punting and plunging from the left half post. Ranck and Christensen and a sophomore, Bruce Smith, will help in the backfield.

Asked about the line, he snapped: "Just say that Captain Vin Pederson will play tackle."

LOUIS FLOORS PASTOR AFTER TOUGH BATTLE

Challenger Gives Good Account Of Himself; Drops In 11th

By GAYLE TALBOT

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—A crushing right to the jaw sent little Bob Pastor to his knees, dazed and helpless, in the 11th round at Briggs stadium last night, and Champion Joe Louis had snuffed out one more fighter who made the mistake of facing him the second time.

The blow so numbed Pastor's senses that he didn't hear as the gray-haired referee, Sam Hennessey, tolled 10. They had to lift him to his tired legs, and he mumbled apologetically: "I didn't see the punch. I didn't see it coming at all."

It must have been a deeply satisfying victory for the big, vacant-faced Negro, who was defending his title for the first time before cheering "home folks", a great number of them of his own race. Joe looked as nearly happy as he ever looks.

Down Five Times

He had knocked the New York Jewish boy down five times in the first two rounds, and then, after what he described as a "breathing spell", had dropped him with a single blow, clean and neat. It was what he had dreamed of doing ever since the night 30 months ago that Pastor had danced around and taunted him in Madison Square Garden.

Some of the experts were saying after the fight that Joe wasn't the Brown Bomber of old, else he never would have let Pastor get away from him temporarily after he had slugged him to the canvas repeatedly at the outset of the battle.

But "I knew I was in there for a 10-round fight", said in the usual Louis dialect. "I wasn't in a hurry at all after I hit him so much there at the start. But when I sat down at the end of the tenth I felt strong and fresh, so I told 'Chappie' (Jack Blackburn, his trainer) that I would get him the next round. Didn't I, Chappie?"

Pastor Gives Licks

It wasn't a particularly brutal fight. Pastor, who weighed 183 and spotted Louis 17 pounds came out of it with a gash on his left eyelid and a slightly bruised face. Louis had a mouse under his left eye.

Pastor got in some pretty good licks, first and last. Once, in the eighth round, he stood Louis up against the ropes and whaled him right smartly. In fact, long after the scrap was over, he kept insisting to his manager, Jimmy Johnston: "I can punch with that guy, Pop."

That seemed to have been Bob's major mistake.

Joe scarcely used his famous left, incidentally, all through the fight, because Pastor was circling the wrong way.

By the end of the second round until the 11th, when the lights went out, the game New Yorker came along better and better. He was doing all right until he failed to see the pay-off punch.

Louis in all probability will not pull on the gloves again until he fights Tony Galento next summer. He's about fought himself out of opponents for one thing, and he has his eye on his income tax, for another.

Following are the official figures on the fight:

Total attendance—33,868.

Net paid attendance—32,199.

Gross gate—$347,870.

Net gate—$296,000.

Louis' share—40 per cent of net receipts (approximately $118,000).

Pastor's share—17½ per cent of net (approximately $52,000).

Spectacular Crash

Fatal To Mechanic

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—A spectacular crashup in a tire test brought death to Lawson Harris, 32, Indianapolis mechanic, and injury to Babe Stapp, 34, Los Angeles race driver, on the same track where both had completed in the annual 500-mile automobile race here.

They were on their eighth time around the two-and-a-half-mile Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday when their racing car crashed at 116 miles an hour into the wall on the southwest turn.

Harris, thrown out and his head smashed, died later in a hospital. Stapp, also taken to the hospital, had bruises and face cuts.

MIAMI DEPENDS ON SOPHOMORES

Newcomers Carry Hopes Of Redskins In '39 Grid Battles

OXFORD, Sept. 21.—Upon the shoulders of a fine-looking crop of sophomores rest Miami University's football hopes this fall.

Five of the starting 11 to face Mount Union here Sept. 30 in the opener will be first-year squad men, with the yearlings making up the entire right side of the forward wall, from center to end. The other soph is a backfielder.

Although his squad was riddled by graduation, Coach Frank Wilton appeared hopeful as he launched the Redskins on their 52nd annual gridiron campaign. This is the first time in eight years, however, that Wilton has been forced to shove untried sophomores into his first string. On the other hand, he described his yearling crop as the best in history.

Four Veterans

Only four first-string veterans are available for line duty, and two of them are battling for the same job, leaving four open to newcomers. Jim Kessler of Troy will play left end, and Casey Wineland of Findlay goes in at left guard. Robert Irie of Springfield and Art Evans of Oxford, the other vets, are battling for the right guard job.

Outstanding sophomores racing for forward wall positions include Owen Harrow of Van Wert, end; Bill Anderson of Excelsior, Minn., tackle; James Lawrence of Loveland and Rudy Okruhlica of Hamilton, guards, and Mills Brandes of Sandusky, center.

Leonard Caito of Cleveland, a sophomore, appears to have the left halfback post sewed up. Veterans in the backfield who loom as certain starters are Mel Rehbohl of Cincinnati, halfback; Bill Snyder of Chicago, fullback, and Jack Storms of Dayton, quarterback.

The Miami schedule is a "toughie." Following Mt. Union, the Redskins tackle Western State Teachers of Michigan, Marshall, Akron, Ohio Wesleyan, Detroit Tech, Ohio University, Dayton and Cincinnati on successive weekends.

End Of Heavy Title Hunt For Pastor

The world's heavyweight championship fight in Detroit, Mich., between Champion Joe Louis and Challenger Bob Pastor virtually began with Pastor on his knees and ended, in the 11th round, that way. Pastor, shown on his knees in a dazed condition, got up after four knockdowns in the first round to stage an amazing rally only to weaken again in the 11th round of what was to have been a 20-round battle. It was Louis' eighth successful title defense.

BEACH SELECTS STARTING TEAM

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 21.—Coach Al Beach of the Columbiana High school has selected his starting team for his team's football opener at Salineville Friday afternoon, subject to change due to a possible slump in the work of any of the lads this week.

Last year Coach Beach's inexperienced team defeated Salineville, 14-0, for the only victory of the season. The Red and White lads are hoping to repeat Friday.

Eight hard games follow on successive weekends, with Minerva, Leetonia, Fitch, Louisville, Boardman, Sebring, East Palestine and Lisbon.

Coach Beach's starting team will average 155 pounds, the line scaling 157 and the backfield 146. Only four of this eleven are seniors and only two have had more than one year of varsity experience, these being Dewalt and Burke. The other seniors are Fred Wilson and Harold Costello.

The starting backfield will be: Earl Zellers, 135 pounds, Ralph Rohrer, 127, no varsity experience; Dewalt, 168 and Burke, 156.

The two heaviest boys on the squad will be used at tackle. They are Bill Hollinger, 185, and Dave Holloway, 170. The ends are George Glecker, 158, and Bob Kyser, 153; guards, Costello, 145, and Clinton Howell, 145. Center Fred Wilson has increased his weight to 150.

Others who had considerable experience last year and earned varsity letters are: Dick Spenseller, 159, tackle; Edgar Moore, 144, guard; Don Bush, 144, guard; Ronnie Hively, 123, halfback.

Reserves and newcomers include: Centers, Ted Detwiler, 140, and Dick Newell, 115; ends, Norman Prenger, 141, James Faulk, 137, Delmer Harrold, 131; tackles, Galen Lehman, 145, Logan Kidder, 150; guards, Dick Gaughn, 136; backs, Albert Gorcheff, 118, Tom Gorcheff, 130, Ed Dowd, 105, Raymond Ehlard, 130, Joe Case, 82.

POLLY AND HER PALS

"THERE'S ALWAYS TOMORROW"

by May Christie

CHAPTER XXXVI

"Niklas told me to give the pendant to a woman at the club tonight. I did so. But you had already emptied it! Thank Heaven for that!"

"And this necklace in my pocket! While you were singing, I got it out of your dressing room, my dear! It would have been held in evidence against you by the police. They're wise to all Niklas's tricks!"

Out came the imitation string of pearls!

"Look, now, when I squeeze this one pearl!" He pressed a bead hard between finger and thumb. A white powder oozed from it. He pressed a second and a third. "Chock-full of morphine!"

"Good heavens! During the singing of 'Auld Lang Syne' at midnight, I was to slip it to some woman next to me in the circle on the dance floor! Mr. Flagg, believe me when I tell you I had no idea of its contents!"

It was half-past eleven o'clock. The Chateau de la Marquise was filled.

After the theater the crowds surged in. Rich, important members with their guests, Niklas was delighted. It would be a wonderful New Year's festivity. He was growing richer by the minute!

That bad news that had just reached him about Lola from her sanitarium did not upset him at all. In fact, he expected the worst.

But over-dead!

If the truth were told, it was through one of the promoter's trustees that the small package of morphine had been smuggled to the victim, this New Year's Eve. For Niklas believed that the means justified the end. He brooked nothing dangerous in people that were near him, if there were any way of circumventing it. Poor Lola knew too much about his business! Even were she cured of her morphia-habit, he was through with her. His feeling for her was finished long ago. Her affection was not only tiresome, it might prove ruinous. And he was a man who would stick at nothing.

Time, thought Niklas, glancing at his heavy gold wrist watch, that the Marquise appeared. She had been in her dressing room too long. Next to those clever packages secreted for the chosen members who had money for them, the lovely singer was the big attraction.

After the singing of 'Auld Lang Syne' the ushering in of the New Year—some of the trick grass and the perfumed sheep would be removed from the main floor, because, in those exhilarating moments of champagne (or little capsules) men and women would immediately want to dance together.

That he was the beneficent purveyor of such stimulants gave Niklas a strange glow. He was completely amoral. For years he carried on this traffic. He considered it a kind of art! The highest ingenuity was necessary.

Wasn't he daily defeating the best brains of the law?—Just he had circumvented the famous Brigade des Stupefiants, over in Paris? They had laid innumerable traps for him! But he had more real intelligence than any of them!

Thus he mused as he watched the crowds fairly plead with Diaz, the head-waiter, that they might be seated for supper in this night spot, that he and Antoinette together had turned into a huge success.

He would give her a handsome monetary New Year's gift—a bonus—and then he would seek to advance their personal relationship. He had hung back long enough. She was so lady-like, so pretty. And the naiveness he had first doubted, but now realized was genuine, was a further attraction in her.

Where on earth was she? With her rich Mr. Halstead-Flagg, maybe? She might even get him to marry her, who knew? Then it would be up to him—Niklas—to give up thoughts of an affair. After all, hadn't she been a real money-maker?

Niklas was unaware that Zephryne, who was paid an excellent salary not only to be her maid, but to spy upon the girl, had come to the club that evening, and departed without carrying out her intention of breaking the bad news to the promoter that his star of the performance had summarily left town!

Let Niklas find out on his own. Get quickly back to the apartment.

She had intended to join her relatives this evening, for a celebration. But stay at her post, since certainly there would be telephone inquiries for the missing Marquise.

It occurred to Niklas, as he looked around, that there were certain to be strange male faces in the club tonight—but on New Year's Eve that was to be expected.

Everybody was in requisite evening clothes.

Diaz came over to him, looking a little anxious which was odd, in view of the fact that the club was now packed with a smart throng!

"Such a calamity that Madame

Antoinette has been summoned home to the sick bed of her mother!" were the astonishing words that fell on the ear of the promoter.

Niklas stared at his head-waiter. "When did that happen?"

"But I thought you had already heard! You were not told?"

"Indeed I was not," Niklas was much annoyed. "Why didn't you let me know immediately? We'll have to put on her understudy, and she is not at all brilliant." His tongue made a clicking sound of disgust.

"But I have only just learned of it myself. One of the boys—Salut—told me. He received a telephone message for the Marquise."

"He's a fool. It was his duty to let one of us know directly he heard. Dismiss him, Diaz. I have no patience with fools." And Niklas strode to his star's dressing room which was indeed empty.

The hands of the clock moved onwards.

The understudy did her part. People were half-light anyway. He ordered the floor cleared for dancing.

A quarter to twelve. Five minutes to mid-night. The big hand-clapping ring was formed, extending completely around the floor.

How gay they were! Niklas himself was swept into the circle. On the stroke of mid-night the lights went out. The big clock chimed. Church bells rang out. There were yells and cheers from the throngs on Broadway... from all over...

"Happy New Year!"

So great was the babel on the floor of the Chateau de la Marquise that queer sounds of scuffling went unnoticed by the owner, though he was aware that stronger hands than those of the girls who had been on either side of him before the lights went out now gripped his palms to right and left.

"They are two men who mistake me for a woman!" He stood stock still. He was amused.

Suddenly, still in the darkness, but only a second before the lights were switched on, he felt, on either wrist, the weight of cold steel!

"Don't struggle. The law's got you!"

These were the words that ushered in the New Year for Niklas, head of an international drug ring.

Too late to shoot it out! He carried two little revolvers. He had a deadly aim—but not now. For behind him was a third detective in evening clothes. Swift hands removed his weapons—from his vest pocket—from the pocket in his tails.

Every door of the club was barred by uniform policemen. Diaz—the waiters—more than a dozen members were in custody.

Pandemonium reigned in the Chateau de la Marquise.
